Emmy Nominee Poet, Jon Goode to perform at College of Coastal Georgia

Emmy Nominee and HBO Def Poet Jon Goode hails from Richmond, Virginia but currently resides in Atlanta, Georgia.

Over the past decade he has performed his unique brand of comedic and life-affirming poetry at colleges and universities all over the nation, and venues both domestic and abroad. Jon is currently one of the featured artists in the sold out Passion and Poetry concert series that features some of the top rated poets and spoken word artists in the nation. He is a repeat featured act on Russell Simmons' HBO Def Poetry Jam and has his highly acclaimed work published in print ads by Nike and in several magazines and periodicals nationwide. His work has also been featured in radio commercials for McDonalds and in television commercials and interstitials for TVLand/Nick @ Nite. Jon's work with Nick @ Nite earned him an Emmy nomination along with the Promax Gold award for best copyright in June 2006. Poetry Slam Incorporated ranks Jon Goode as one of the top poets in the nation due to his 3rd place finish at the national poetry slam competition in August 2006.

As a national award winning performance poet, Jon has been privileged to share the stage with many artists, including Jamie Foxx, Mos Def, Kanye West and many other talented poets, comedians and performers. Jon represents a refreshing change-up to traditional performance poetry, and has established himself as one of the most influential and positive voices in the African American community. His laid back blend of humor and levity have propelled his career and made him one of the most highly awarded, celebrated and most sought after talents of our generation.

College hosts 25th annual Regional Science & Engineering Fair

The 25th Annual Coastal Georgia Regional Science and Engineering Fair will be held Wednesday through Friday, February 25-28, in the College of Coastal Georgia Howard Coffin Gymnasium in Brunswick, with the awards ceremony to follow on Saturday, February 28 in the Southeast Georgia Conference Center Auditorium.

Over 200 students from at least thirty elementary, middle and high schools, from 6 local counties - Glynn, McIntosh, Camden, Brantley, Wayne, and Charlton, are competing in this year's regional fair at College of Coastal Georgia. Winners will go on to compete at the Georgia Science and Engineering Fair, April 1-4, in Athens, and could potentially continue to the Intel International Science and Engineering Fair (ISEF), May 10-15, in Reno, NV.

The Dr. William T. Lipscombe Science Fair Award ceremony will be presented at 11:00 AM on behalf of the Glynn Environmental Coalition. Dr. Lipscombe, who passed away in 2005, was a faculty member at the College of Coastal Georgia. The Lipscomb Award will be presented to the student whose science fair project best epitomizes the Coalition mission.

The public is invited to view the exhibits on Friday, February 27, from 9:00 AM until 4:00 PM and attend awards ceremonies on Saturday, February 28. The Elementary School awards will begin at 10:00 AM followed by the Junior and Senior Awards (Middle and High School awards) at 11:00 AM. For additional information about the Science Fair and how your school might participate, please visit the website, <http://cgrsef.blogspot.com> or contact Dr. Mark Pilgrim, Regional Science Fair Director, or Joan Rozmarynoski, Division of Science, Mathematics, and Physical Education at 279-5876.
