

It's Time to Heal The Community –One Bag at a Time

Spring 2025

By: Victoria McIver; Course:
English Composition 2;
Professor: Dr. Jessica
Melilli-Hand; Sabra Slade

The front doors to the Sparrow's Nest:

In the pantry putting together family meals:

Project Description:

- This project is to raise awareness of homes that are financially insecure
- My goal was to help feed as many families as possible with my partners at Sparrow's Nest
- My informative essay talks about financially insecure families and young students. It lists benefits of letting them take school leftovers home so it doesn't go to waste.
- This service learning project has required understanding, empathy, drive, and teamwork

Background research:

- Recent studies have shown that in 2023 1 in 5 children live with hunger
- Substantial food waste most likely results from food preparation methods that affect food quality (Orihuela).

Reflection:

- For volunteering I was on restocking duty
- The work atmosphere was welcoming and enjoyable
- The service learning project was eye opening to the dedication it takes to be a volunteer which is something that deserves more appreciation

Partner Description:

- Sparrow's Nest originated from Faith Works and the Southeast Georgia health system's partnership for its pastoral care program
- Sparrow's Nest Provides food and financial services to those who need it
- Faith Works has been partnered with the Southeast Georgia Health System since 1997