

Journey to English Proficiency And Know About your Rights

By: Tania Arce Velasquez

Facility Supervisor: Dr. Jessica Melilli-Hand

Community Partner: English Learning Academy (ELLA)

Project Description:

This project focused on supporting immigrants in their efforts to learn English and understand their rights in case of an encounter with immigration authorities. I attended an English class for immigrants, where I helped grade papers and assisted students with pronunciation. Additionally, I facilitated a 'Know Your Rights' session by distributing informational materials and spreading awareness about the event to ensure more immigrants had access to this crucial information.

Picture Of The Class And Me

Flyer For Know Your Rights

Reflection:

By collaborating with these organization, I see the true passion of these students coming for a better life . And really trying to change for this country which make me proud for them. Teaching a language can be hard and tricky .

What can We Do about It?

- As a community we can be patient with people who are having trouble speaking English.
- Instead of hating the person who is having trouble the speaking English lets help them
- Let support these academy by giving a donation or asking if the school needs supplies like paper or pencils

Impact:

- I had to write a researched persuasive paper, and I wanted to write about immigration.
- Doing the service learning showed that by that people teaching English to make the people fit in the country.